- If the processing of your personal data was/is conducted in an unlawful manner, you have the option to demand the restriction of the processing of your data in lieu of demanding the eradication of this data.
- If we do not need your personal data any longer and you need it to exercise, defend or claim legal entitlements, you have the right to demand the restriction of the processing of your personal data instead of its eradication.
- If you have raised an objection pursuant to Art. 21 Sect. 1 GDPR, your rights and our rights will have to be weighed against each other. As long as it has not been determined whose interests prevail, you have the right to demand a restriction of the processing of your personal data.

If you have restricted the processing of your personal data, these data – with the exception of their archiving – may be processed only subject to your consent or to claim, exercise or defend legal entitlements or to protect the rights of other natural persons or legal entities or for important public interest reasons cited by the European Union or a member state of the EU.

They are either stored temporarily for the duration of a session (session cookies) or they are permanently archived on your device (permanent cookies). Session cookies are automatically deleted once you terminate your visit. Permanent cookies remain archived on your device until you actively delete them or they are automatically eradicated by your web browser.

In some cases it is possible that third party cookies are stored on your device once you enter our site (third party cookies). These cookies enable you or us to take advantage of certain services offered by the third party (e.g. cookies for the processing of payment services).

Cookies have a variety of functions. Many cookies are technically essential since certain website functions would not work in the absence of the cookies (e.g. the shopping cart function or the display of videos). The purpose of other cookies may be the analysis of user patterns or the display of promotional messages.

Cookies that are required for the performance of the electronic communications transaction or to provide certain functions you want to use (e.g. the shopping cart function), are stored on the basis of Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. f GDPR. The website operator has a legitimate interest in storing cookies to ensure the technically error free and optimised provision of the operator's services. You have the option to set up your browser in such a manner that you will be notified any time cookies are placed and to permit the acceptance of cookies only in specific cases. You may also exclude the acceptance of cookies in certain cases or in general or activate the delete function for the automatic eradication of cookies when the browser closes. If cookies are deactivated, the functions of this website may be limited.

In the event that third party cookies are used or if cookies are used for analytical purposes, we will separately notify you in conjunction with this Data Protection Policy and, if applicable, ask for your consent.

The information you have entered into the contact form shall remain with us until you ask us to eradicate the data, revoke your consent to the archiving of data or if the purpose for which the information is being archived no longer exists (e.g. after we have concluded our response to your inquiry). This shall be without prejudice to any mandatory legal provisions – in particular retention periods.

Request by e-mail, telephone or fax

If you contact us by e-mail, telephone or fax, your request, including all resulting personal data (name, request) will be stored and processed by us for the purpose of processing your request. We do not pass these data on without your consent.

The processing of these data is based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. b GDPR, if your request is related to the execution of a contract or if it is necessary to carry out pre-contractual measures. 6. Newsletter

Newsletter2Go

This website uses Newsletter2Go for the sending of newsletters. The provider is the Newsletter2Go GmbH, Nürnberger Straße 8, 10787 Berlin, Germany.

Newsletter2Go services can, among other things, be used to organize and analyse the sending of newsletters. The data you enter for the purpose of subscribing to the newsletter are archived on Newsletter2Go's servers in Germany.

If you do not want to permit an analysis by Newsletter2Go, you must unsubscribe from the newsletter. We provide a link for you to do this in every newsletter message. Moreover, you can also unsubscribe from the newsletter right on the website.

Data analysis by Newsletter2Go

Newsletter2Go enables us to analyse our newsletter campaigns. For instance, it allows us to see whether a newsletter message has been opened and, if so, which links may have been clicked. This enables us to determine, which links drew an extraordinary number of clicks.

Moreover, we are also able to see whether once the e-mail was opened or a link was clicked, any previously defined actions were taken (conversion rate). This allows us to determine whether you have made a purchase after clicking on the newsletter.

Newsletter2Go also enables us to divide the subscribers to our newsletter into various categories (i.e. to “cluster” recipients). For instance, newsletter recipients can be categorized based on age, gender or place of residence. This enables us to tailor our newsletter more effectively to the needs of the respective target groups.

For detailed information on the functions of Newsletter2Go please follow this link: <https://www.newsletter2go.de/features/newsletter-software/>.

Legal basis

The data is processed based on your consent (Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. a GDPR). You may revoke any consent you have given at any time by unsubscribing from the newsletter. This serves both your interest and our interest in complying with the legal requirements when sending newsletters (legitimate interest within the meaning of Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f GDPR). The storage in the blacklist is indefinite. You may object to the storage if your interests outweigh our legitimate interest.

7. eCommerce and payment service providers

We collect, process and use personal data only to the extent necessary for the establishment, content organization or change of the legal relationship (data inventory). These actions are taken on the basis of Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. b GDPR, which permits the processing of data for the fulfilment of a contract or pre-contractual actions. We collect, process and use personal data concerning the use of this website (usage data) only to the extent that this is necessary to make it possible for users to utilize the services and to bill for them.

Any sharing of your data with third parties in the absence of your express consent, for instance for advertising purposes, shall not occur.

8. Custom Services

Job Applications

We offer website visitors the opportunity to submit job applications to us (e.g. via e-mail, via postal services or by submitting the online job application form). Below, we will brief you on the scope, purpose and use of the personal data collected from you in conjunction with the application process. We assure you that the collection, processing and use of your data will occur in compliance with the applicable data privacy rights and all other statutory provisions and that your data will always be treated as strictly confidential.

Scope and purpose of the collection of data

If you submit a job application to us, we will process any affiliated personal data (e.g. contact and communications data, application documents, notes taken during job interviews, etc.), if they are required to make a decision concerning the establishment or an employment relationship. The legal grounds for the aforementioned are § 26 New GDPR according to German Law (Negotiation of an Employment Relationship), Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. b GDPR (General Contract Negotiations) and – provided you have given us your consent – Art. 6 Sect. 1 lit. a GDPR. You may revoke any consent given at any time. Within our company, your personal data will only be shared with individuals who are involved in the processing of your job application. Data Archiving Period

If we are unable to make you a job offer or you reject a job offer or withdraw your application, we reserve the right to retain the data you have submitted on the basis of our legitimate interests (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f DSGVO) for up to 4 months from the end of the application procedure (rejection or withdrawal of the application). Afterwards the data will be deleted, and the physical application documents will be destroyed. The storage serves in particular as evidence in the event of a legal dispute. If it is evident that the data will be required after the expiry of the 6-month period (e.g. due to an impending or pending legal dispute), deletion will only take place when the purpose for further storage no longer applies.

Longer storage may also take place if you have given your agreement (Article 6 (1) (a) GDPR) or if statutory data retention requirements preclude the deletion.

Admission to the applicant pool

If we do not make you a job offer, you may be able to join our applicant pool. In case of admission, all documents and information from the application will be transferred to the applicant pool in order to contact you in case of suitable vacancies.

Admission to the applicant pool is based exclusively on your express agreement (Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a GDPR). The submission agreement is voluntary and has no relation to the ongoing application procedure. The affected person can revoke his agreement at any time. In this case, the data from the applicant pool will be irrevocably deleted, provided there are no legal reasons for storage.

The data from the applicant pool will be irrevocably deleted no later than two years after consent has been granted.

9. Additional data protection information for our customers, interested parties, suppliers and comparable groups of people

Data that we process in the course of initiating and executing contracts

We process personal data of our customers, interested parties, service providers and partners, which we receive directly in the context of our business relationship. If we have received data from you, we generally process it only for the purposes for which we received or collected it.

As a rule, we process the following data categories from you:

- Name first Name
- Address and / or company address
- telecommunications data
- E-mail address
- company
- professional function and / or position
- Bank details / credit card number / other payment details, if applicable
- possibly data on the history of the business relationship

As part of the business initiation phase and during the business relationship, in particular through personal, telephone or written contacts initiated by you or by one of our employees, further personal data is created, e.g. Information about contact channel, date, reason and result; (electronic) copies of correspondence and information about participation in direct marketing measures.

On the other hand, we process personal data that we have legitimately obtained and are allowed to process from publicly accessible sources (e.g. trade and association registers, press, media, internet).

Data processing for other purposes only comes into consideration if the legal requirements required in this regard according to Art. 6 Para. 4 GDPR are present. In this case, we will of course observe any information obligations under Art. 13 Para. 3 GDPR and Art. 14 Para. 4 GDPR.

Legal basis according to which we process your data

Based on your consent (Art. 6 Para. 1 a) GDPR)

We process personal data for one or more specific purposes if you have given us your consent. If personal data is processed based on your consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to us at any time with future effect.

Data processing for the fulfillment of contracts (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. b) GDPR)

We process personal data for the fulfillment of contracts. The fulfillment of contracts includes the conclusion, processing and reversal of a contract. In addition, we process personal data that are necessary to carry out pre-contractual measures, such as to initiate a contract, and that are made at your request.

Data processing based on a legal obligation (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. c) GDPR)

Like every company, we have to comply with retention requirements and other documentation requirements, this can also affect documents with personal information. Insofar as we process data for these purposes, the processing takes place on the basis of a legal obligation.

Data processing based on a balance of interests (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit.f) GDPR)

If we process data based on a balance of interests, you as the data subject have the right to object to the processing of personal data, taking into account the requirements of Art. 21 GDPR. As far as the specific purpose allows, we process your data pseudonymized or anonymized.

Further legal bases result from the commercial law and tax law requirements.

Other recipients of your data

Disclosure to processors in the context of Art. 28 GDPR

Order processors we use (Art. 28 GDPR), in particular in the area of IT services and, for example, printing services that process your data for us in accordance with the instructions. If we commission service providers to perform our tasks, we always comply with the data protection regulations, in particular a transfer takes place only after contracts for order processing have been concluded.

To carry out a contractual relationship

If it is necessary for the execution of the contract with you, we will pass on your data to banks or shipping service providers, for example.

Disclosure based on a legal obligation

If there is a legal or official obligation, we pass your data on to public authorities or institutions (authorities, e.g. in the context of law enforcement).

Other positions, provided you have given us your consent

If there is explicit consent, we will also pass on your data to other locations. However, this takes place within the limits if you have demonstrable consent.

Disclosure to obtain information

If we make advance payments, we reserve the right to obtain information on identity and creditworthiness from specialized service companies (credit agencies) in order to safeguard our legitimate interests. As a rule, we only do this after obtaining your consent to request information.

General information on deletion periods of personal data

Principle of purpose limitation and compliance with the legal retention periods

We process the data as long as this is necessary for the respective purpose. If necessary, we process your personal data for the duration of our business relationship, which also includes the initiation and execution of a contract.

In addition, like every company, we are obliged to comply with the statutory retention periods, for example the periods from commercial and tax law. Insofar as there are statutory retention requirements, the relevant personal data are stored for the duration of the retention obligation. The storage duration is also to the legal limitation periods, which according to §§ 195 ff. Can in certain cases also be up to thirty years. After the retention period has expired, it is checked whether there is a further need for processing. If there is no longer a need, the data will be deleted.

Concrete example

If you provide us with your contact details, for example by e-mail, telephone or by handing over your business card, we will save this data on the basis of Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. b GDPR based on pre-contractual measures and in the legitimate interest (Art. 6

Para. 1 lit.f GDPR) of smooth and targeted communication. If no legal transaction takes place, we will delete your data if you ask us to do so or if no further contact takes place within a period of three years. If you enter into a legal transaction with us (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit b GDPR), we will save your data for ten years until the commercial and tax law requirements expire. After this period, we check whether we can delete the data and, if necessary, delete it.

Emails and business letters

We archive all our email traffic for ten years. If you send us an email, your data and the entire email content will be stored accordingly for 10 years. Most emails count as business letters, and emails can also contain tax-related information. In our opinion, the effort involved in checking each individual e-mail is not in proportion to the sender's benefit and the interests worthy of protection. Of course, you can ask us to delete it at any time and we will carry out a case-by-case examination, and we will inform you of the result. This can lead to deletion or restriction of processing, depending on the content of the correspondence.

Withdrawal of your consent

If we process your data on the basis of your consent (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. a GDPR), we will delete it after your revocation. Unless there is a legitimate interest against complete deletion. For example, we generally keep a declaration of consent for up to three years after receipt of your revocation in the legitimate interest (Art. 6 Para. 1 lit.f GDPR). We only keep the consent with restriction of processing so that we can defend ourselves in the event of a dispute.

Legal or contractual obligation to provide personal data

The provision of personal data is regularly necessary for the initiation, conclusion, processing and reversal of a contract. In the event that you do not provide the required personal data, we are unable to conclude or fulfill a contract with you.

Transfer to a third country

We generally process your personal data in data centers in the Federal Republic of Germany or the European Union. A transfer to a third country is only possible if you have given us your consent or if we have a contract for order processing in accordance with Art. 28 GDPR taking into account suitable guarantees or other suitable guarantees.
